WIG MANUFACTORY,
No. 85 Fourth street, between Main and Market,
(THE OLDEST STAND IN LOUISVILLE.)

G. NICHOLAS invites the attention of his customers and others to his newly invented VENTILATING DIAMOND WIGS, warranted not to shrink; (those who have worn Wigs know that the greatest comfort in a Wig is to one that will not shrink at all,) besides, they are so close a resemblance to nature as to defy detection. And to enable gentlemen to see the effect, a large assortment is always kept for inspection, any one of which, if approved of, saves the purchaser both time and trouble, as these elegant specimens of Wigs cannot be found elsewhere. Also, a splendid assortment of Ladies' Wigs, Half Wigs, Braids, and Curls always on hand and made to order at the shortest notice.
Combs, Brushes, Perfumery, Gloves, and a general assortment of Fancy Goods, of the latest importation, to be found at the above establishment.

McAllister's All-healing Ointment

IT is generally conceded that this Medicine has effected more cures than any seven remedies ever presented to the public. It has probably cured more cases of Piles, Rheumatism, Sore Eyes, Burns, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Quinsy, Sore Throat, &c., than all the popular medicines in use, and I am positive in Liver Complaint, Scrofula, Asthma, Coughs, Consumptions, Spinal Diseases, Worms, Broken or Sore Breasts, Headache and the like, nothing can be found with physicians or druggists that is so good, and the cure so quick. In all complaints peculiar to females especially, its efficacy appears almost miraculous. ☞ Agents for Kentucky,

FINE AND ELEGANT CLOTHING.
SPROULE & MANDEVILLE,
(CORNER OF MAIN AND FOURTH STREETS.)

WE would call the attention of those that want fine WINTER CLOTHING, to our immense stock. Our stock for the City and Country trade, is much larger and more varied than any we have ever manufactured. And as the season is advancing, we have come to the determination of making a VERY LARGE REDUCTION OF OUR PRICES AT ONCE. We will, therefore, offer our very large and elegant stock of new things in the way of OVERCOATS, PALETOTS, BUSINESS FROCKS and SACKS, PANTS and VESTS, at a bare commission over cost. An inspection of our stock and prices, must satisfy you that you will effect a LARGE SAVING, and obtain a very elegant and superior style of CLOTHING.

FOR PRESIDENT,

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
R. M. T. HUNTER, of Virginia.

FRIDAY, : : : : JANUARY 16, 1852.

Whig Administration.—A good easy-going administration this—nothing to do but to go through the routine of business, travel about to places of amusement, and leave the country to go itself in its domestic affairs, and as it can in its relations with foreign powers. Horace Greeley very properly said, the President's message was remarkable for the non-assertion, and almost non-recognition of any principle. What was true of the message, is true of the whole administration; it means nothing. Fillmore has had occasion to signalise himself and his administration, but he has done nothing when opportunity offered.

The late expedition against Cuba was planned in this country and openly prepared for. It seems impossible that the President and his advisers could have been ignorant of what every body knew. Here was a chance for Fillmore to carry out his own views of duty if he had any. But nothing was done. The expedition sailed unmolested, and our government got credit for nothing but weakness, and good intentions, even from Spain. The proclamation of the President was a blunder, and the whole of his subsequent acts were unmeaning and imbecile. The inefficiency of the administration emboldened England and France to unite with Spain to watch our coast and compel us to keep the peace. Our administration makes a little remonstrance and tamely submits to the indignity. By a treaty stipulation, a citizen of the United States is to have the right of a trial before a sentence in any Spanish territory. Fifty were shot, and one hundred, or more, condemned to the mines without a trial. They had a Spanish trial, it is said; but in this country, the word trial has a meaning. It suggests to us a Judge sworn to execute the law faithfully—the law carefully framed to protect the innocent and punish the guilty, a jury subjected to the right of challenge on the part of the accused, able counsel vigilant and watchful, witnesses confronting the accused in open court to prove a specific charge, which the defendant is fully informed of. All this is included in the word trial in this country, and it should be the meaning in all countries; for common sense dictates the whole process, and justice requires it.—Such is the meaning which our country should insist upon in the treaty. We should not submit to what Spain calls a trial. The treaty to be equitable at all, should give to one of our citizens the same means of defence that our laws and customs give to hers.

Whilst, however, we are bound to give a citizen of Spain an open, deliberate, just and fair chance to acquit himself of any charge, a citizen of the United States is hurried to execution, or to the mines, with, at most, the mere forms of a trial, which is but a mockery of the obligations of a treaty.

Our government contents itself with the mere surface of things; sets down the insurrection in Cuba as a rebellion, apologises for the barbarous conduct of Spain, asks of the Captain General of Cuba some explanations, gets none, and pockets the insult without a murmur. England and France engage in keeping a police in the Gulf of Mexico to watch our coast; objections are made, but actually withdrawn to be rid of trouble.

England assumes a dictation in Central America, which is virtually allowed by our government, in total disregard of our rights and interests. A few years ago these States looked with hope to the United States. One of them offered a treaty giving us the right of way for a ship canal. It was prepared and signed by our able Charge to Central America, Major Hise, but it went into the pockets of the Secretary of State and was never presented to the Senate. In lieu of it a miserable arrangement was made with England to unite in making a ship canal through a territory belonging to neither of the parties—an arrangement which England has disregarded, and goes on with her usurpations. Our government permits a British agent at Graytown to exact port duties without the shadow of a right. We permit England with impunity to interfere with the Tehuantepec route, when the interests of our citizens are involved, and exhibit nothing but tame submission. For all this impertinence we have explanations and sham apologies, and get along good humored, free and easy.

A distinguished man in this State was once knocked down and badly bruised. When he got well, he determined to have redress, but was met by a written apology. "Now," said he, in great indignation, "how will I look walking about these streets with a head full of bruises and a pocket full of apologies?" Now, how will this country look with her honor full of bruises and her archieves full of apologies?

When our government declared the determination that no European power could have Cuba, a little parlez vous impertinently answers that they are determined that this country shall never have it. This was his plain meaning, and it was pocketed. The doctrine first announced by Monroe is virtually abandoned, and the old regulators or fillibusters of Europe have taken it upon themselves to manage the affairs of this continent, and even to keep watch upon our shores to carry out their purposes.

Some talk of an alliance with England to check the progress of absolutism in Europe. We have this continent to attend to yet. We have a settlement to make with England herself. Let this republic make no alliance with any power, and play second fiddle to a monarchy in a European contest. Let us show our ability to take care of our own continent and foster republicanism at home. When we have done this, our example and power will dictate our own terms the world over. Let us show that we are in earnest in our appreciation of republicanism and our hatred of tyranny, and our love of justice and fair dealing; that we have a real regard for the inalienable rights of man here on this continent before we go abroad. Then, if either interest or duty should require us to interfere abroad, we can do it with some effect—do it in behalf of liberty and republicanism—and not in conjunction with monarchy, which only seeks to pull down one form of despotism to establish another.

Our principles of government are antagonistic to any in Europe. To carry out our principles, we should have no honest allies. In such a contest we should expend our blood and treasure to obtain a result in no way desirable to our people, and without any certainty that we should advance liberal principles a single step.

On this continent, however, we can do much which we have not done, and which a timid, time-serving policy will never effect.

REMARKS OF MR. DOUGLAS, OF ILLINOIS,

Upon the Resolution declaring the Compromise Measures to be a definitive Adjustment of all questions growing out of Domestic Slavery. Delivered in the Senate of the United States, December 23, 1851.

[Concluded.]

This was the last vote ever taken on the Wilmot proviso—the last that ever could be taken upon it as applicable to the country acquired from Mexico, for the reason that by this treaty we acquired the country without any such condition as that proposed by Mr Wilmot. It should be borne in mind that the Wilmot proviso not only proposed to prohibit slavery in the Territories while they remained Territories, but also went further, and proposed to insert a stipulation in the treaty with a foreign power pledging the faith of the nation that slavery should never exist in the country acquired, either while it remained in the condition of Territories, or after it should have been admitted into the Union as States on an equal footing with the original States. I denounced this proviso as being unwise, improper, and unconstitutional; I never voted for it, and publicly declared that I never would vote for it, even under the pressure of instructions. The Wilmot proviso being thus disposed of forever, and California and New Mexico having been acquired without any condition or stipulation in respect to slavery, the question arose as to what kind of territorial governments should be established for those countries. A domestic affliction suddenly called me from the capital, and detained me several weeks. On my return I found pending before the Senate the measure known as the Clayton bill. Its provisions were not such as I would have proposed as chairman of the territorial Committee had I been present. Yet it had the high merit of having been reported with great unanimity by a special committee of the most eminent and distinguished members of the Senate, fairly representing all the different sections and interests of the Union. This fact afforded reason for the hope that the bill might receive the sanction of both houses of Congress, and thus put an end to the controversy. Under the influence of these considerations, the bill received my cordial support, and passed the Senate by an overwhelming majority, but was promptly rejected in the House of Representatives. The controversy being reopened with increased violence, and my position at the head of the Territorial Committee requiring me to take the initiative in some plan of fair and just settlement, I brought forward my original proposition to extend the Missouri Compromise to the Pacific, in the same sense and with the same understanding with which it was originally adopted. This proposition met the approbation of the Senate, and passed this body by a large majority, but was instantly rejected in the House of Representatives by a still larger majority. The day of adjournment having arrived, no further efforts were made to adjust the difficulty during that session. At the opening of the next session, upon consultation with the friends of the measure, it was generally conceded—with, perhaps, here and there an individual exception—that there was no hope left for the Missouri Compromise, and consequently some other plan of adjustment must be devised. I was reluctant to give up the Missouri Compromise, having been the first to bring it forward, and having struggled for it in both houses of Congress for about five years. But public duty demanded that all considerations of pride of character and of opinion should be made subservient to the public peace and tranquility.—I gave it up—reluctantly, to be sure—and conceived the idea of a bill to admit California as a State, leaving the people to form a constitution and settle the question of slavery afterwards to suit themselves. I submitted this bill to the then President of the United States, (Mr. Polk,) and have the satisfaction of stating that it received his sanction, and was introduced by me with his approbation. The great argument in favor of this bill was, that it recognised the right of the people to determine all questions relating to their domestic concerns in their own way, and authorized them to do so uninfluenced by executive dictation, or by the apprehension that, unless they decided the slavery question in a particular way, their application for admission would be rejected by Congress. I do not endorse, and never did sanction, the charge against the late administration of having used improper means, to influence the decision of the people of California upon this question; but I do say, that had this bill become the law of the land no such charge would ever have been made or suspicion entertained. The great misfortune is, that a large portion of the South really believe that improper influences were used to produce the result in California. They do not deny the right of the people of California to make that decision; but they insist that the right should have been exercised freely, and uninfluenced by any act of the agents of the Administration, or of the apprehension of an adverse decision by Congress in the event that they had decided the slavery question otherwise. But, Mr. President, the Judiciary Committee reported against and the Senate refused to pass my bill to admit California as a State, leaving the question of slavery open to be decided afterwards by the people, and thus cut off all hope of adjustment in that mode. According to my recollection, the next important measure which promised the slightest hope of giving peace to the country was the proposition of the Senator from Wisconsin, which is usually known as the "Walker amendment." All other plans having failed, as a last hope I came warmly into the support of that proposition, and struggled for its adoption through that terrible night session, as many Senators will recollect.

This brief history brings us down to the commencement of that memorable long session when the late compromise measures were adopted. Mr. President, I may be permitted here to pause and remark that during the period of five years that I was laboring for the adoption of the Missouri Compromise, my votes on the Oregon question, and upon all incidental questions touching slavery, were given with reference to a settlement on that basis, and are consistent with it. If, therefore, any gentleman has the curiosity or wish to understand the meaning of any or all the votes I had occasion to give during that period on this question, he has only to bear in mind the Missouri Compromise, and then observe the perfect harmony between each vote and that measure.

Now, sir, I approach the history of the compromise measures. My account will be brief and easily understood. Having again been placed by the Senate at the head of the Territorial Committee, it became my duty to prepare and submit some plan of adjustment. Early in December, within the first two or three weeks of the session, I wrote, and laid before my committee for their examination and approval, two bills—one for the admission of California into the Union, and the other containing three distinct measures: first, for the establishment of a territorial government for Utah; second, for the establishment of a territorial government for New Mexico; and, third, for the settlement of the Texas boundary. These bills remained before the Committee on Territories from the month of December until the 25th of March before I could obtain the consent of the committee to report them. On that day I reported those bills, each member of the committee reserving the right to oppose any portion of them his judgment should disapprove of, and I being the only member who was responsible for all the provisions of those two bills. Those bills were on my motion ordered to be printed, and laid on the table of each member of both houses of Congress. These printed bills having laid on your table about four weeks, the Senate, on motion of Mr. Foote, appointed a committee of thirteen, with the distinguished Senator from Kentucky (Mr. Clay) at its head. That committee took my two printed bills, joined them together with a wafer, and reported them to the Senate as one bill—which is well known to the country as the "omnibus bill." If any gentleman has the curiosity to investigate this matter, he can walk to the Secretary's table and inspect the original omnibus bill. He will find that it consists of two printed bills with a wafer between them, and a black line drawn through the words "Mr. Douglas, from the Committee on Territories," and in lieu of them are inserted these other words: "Mr. Clay, from the Committee of Thirteen," reported the following bill. The committee had also made some slight and comparatively unimportant amendments, nearly all of which were disagreed to by the Senate. The Committee of Thirteen, therefore, did not originate or write any one measure contained in the omnibus. They availed themselves of the labors of the Committee on Territories, and their distinguished chairman did us the justice so to state at the time he reported the bill. The Committee of Thirteen put a wafer between our bills, and the Senate took out the wafer and passed them separately. I supported the omnibus as a joint measure. I supported each measure separately. I had no pride of opinion that the bills should be passed in the precise form I had reported them. I desired to see the controversy terminated, and was willing to take the measures jointly or separately, or in any form in which they could pass both Houses of Congress. I reported them separately because I had ascertained the fact from actual count that they could pass separately and could never pass jointly.

Mr. President, I claim no credit for having originated and proposed the measures contained in the omnibus. There was no peculiar or remarkable feature in them. They were merely ordinary measures of legislation, well adapted to the circumstances, and their sole merit consisted in the fact that separately they could pass both Houses of Congress. Being responsible for these bills, as they came from the hands of the Committee on Territories, I wish to call the attention of the Senate and of the country to the fact that they contained no prohibition of slavery—no provision upon the subject. And now I come to the main point, which explains the object of the detailed statement which I have just made. The Legislature of Illinois, by a combination of every whig in each house, with a few free-soil democrats, had passed a resolution instructing me to vote for a bill for the government of the territory acquired from Mexico which should contain an express prohibition of slavery in said territory. The instruction did not go to the extent of the Wilmot proviso, by attempting to prohibit slavery in the States as well as Territories, but the movers of it contented themselves with the proviso that slavery should be prohibited in the Territories while they remained such, leaving the people to do as they pleased when they became a State. Yet the instruction was designed and deemed sufficient to compel me to resign my seat and give place to a free-soiler, for there could have been no expectation of their electing a whig. They knew my inflexible opposition to the principle asserted in the instruction, at the same time that they knew that the right of instruction was the settled doctrine of both parties in my State, which no man could repudiate with safety. Knowing that this combination of whigs and free-soilers flattered themselves that they had succeeded in a party trick which would drive me from the Senate and give place to a free-soiler who would come here and carry out abolition doctrines, I confess that they would have succeeded in their plot had I been certain that all the measures of the compromise could have passed without my vote and in opposition to the vote of an abolitionist in my place. Notwithstanding these instructions, I wrote the bills and reported them from the Committee on Territories without the prohibitions, in order that the record might show what my opinions were; but, lest the trick might fail, a free soil Senator offered an amendment in the precise language of my instructions. I knew that the amendment could not prevail, even if my colleague and myself recorded the vote of our State in its favor.

But if I resigned my place to an abolitionist, it was almost certain that the bills would fail on their passage. After consulting with my colleague and with many Senators friendly to the bills, I came to the conclusion that duty required that I should retain my seat. I was prepared to fight and defy abolitionism in all its forms, but I was not willing to repudiate the settled doctrine of my State in regard to the right of instruction. Before the vote was taken, I made a speech reviewing my course on the slavery question and defining my position. I denounced the doctrine of the amendment, declared my unalterable opposition to it, and gave notice that any vote which might be recorded in my name seemingly in its favor, would be the vote of those who gave the instructions, and not my own. Under this protest, I recorded a vote for this and one or two other amendments embracing the same principle, and then renewed my protest against them, and gave notice that I should not hold myself responsible for them. Immediately on my return home to my constituents, and in that same Chicago speech to which I have referred, I renewed my protest against those votes, and repeated the notice to that excited and infuriated meeting that they were their votes and not mine. I will detain the Senate a moment while I read a passage from that speech. Speaking of the territorial bills, I say:

"These measures are predicated on the great fundamental principle that every people ought to possess the right of forming and regulating their own internal concerns and domestic institutions in their own way. It was supposed that those of our fellow-citizens who emigrated to the shores of the Pacific and to our other Territories were as capable of self government as their neighbors and kindred whom they left behind them; and there was no reason for believing that they have lost any of their intelligence or patriotism by the wayside, while crossing the isthmus or the plains. It was also believed that after arrival in the country, when they had become familiar with its topography, climate, productions, and resources, and had connected their destiny with it, they were fully as competent to judge for themselves what kind of laws and institutions were best adapted to their condition and interests as we were who never saw the country and knew very little about it. To question their competency to do this was to deny their capacity for self-government. If they have the requisite intelligence and honesty to be intrusted with the enactment of laws for the government of white men, I know of no reason why they should not be deemed competent to legislate for the negro. If they are sufficiently enlightened to make laws for the protection of life, liberty, and property, of morals and education—to determine the relation of husband and wife, of parent and child—I am not aware that it requires any higher degree of civilization to regulate the affairs of master and servant. These things are all confided by the Constitution to each State to decide for itself, and I know of no reason why the same principle should not be extended to the Territories. My votes and acts have been in accordance with these views in all cases, except in the instances in which I voted under your instructions. Those were your votes, and not mine. I entered my protest against them at the time—before and after they were recorded— AND SHALL NEVER HOLD MYSELF RESPONSIBLE FOR THEM."

This speech was immediately printed, and circulated all over the State. I at the same time traveled over a good portion of the States, and made many speeches of the same tenor, the last of which was made in the capital of our State. A few weeks afterwards, the Legislature assembled, and one of their first acts was to repeal the resolutions of instructions to which I have referred, and to pass resolutions approving of the course of my colleague and myself on the compromise measures, by a vote of three or four to one. From that day Illinois has stood firm and unwavering in support of the compromise measures and of all the compromises of the Constitution.

Now, Mr. President, I have done with these explanations, and I trust forever. If I have said anything which savors of egotism, I know the Senate will pardon me, and at the same time sympathize in the necessity which has imposed it upon me. If I had omitted all that was personal to myself, my defence would have been incomplete and unsatisfactory. I could not have done less and have done justice to myself and to those who are connected with me. In view of all the facts, I submit the question whether the charge or insinuation that I was at any time favorable to the Wilmot proviso was and is not grossly ungenerous and unjust. I am willing to be held responsible for all my acts; but I wish to be judged by my acts and not by malicious misrepresentations of them. I do not claim to be infallible. I may have committed many errors, and doubtless have; but when I am convinced of them, I will acknowledge them like a man, and promptly correct them. I wish to avoid no responsibility. I do not belong to that school of politicians.

In taking leave of this subject, I wish to state that I have determined never to make another speech upon the slavery question; and I will now add the hope that the necessity for it will never exist. I am heartily tired of the controversy, and I know the country is disgusted with it. In regard to the resolutions of the Senator from Mississippi, I will be pardoned for saying that I much doubt the wisdom and expediency of their introduction. The whole country is acquiescing in the compromise measures—everywhere, North and South. Nobody proposes to repeal or disturb them. True, everybody was not for them originally, nor would they be so now were it an open or original question. But since they have been adopted, and time has been given for a little cool reflection, everybody seems to be disposed to treat them as a final settlement of an unprofitable controversy. So long as our opponents do not agitate for repeal or modification, why should we agitate for any purpose? We claim that the Compromise is a final settlement. Is a final settlement open to discussion, and agitation, and controversy, by its friends? What manner of settlement is that which does not settle the difficulty and quiet the dispute? Are not the friends of the Compromise becoming the agitators, and will not the country hold us responsible for that which we condemn and denounce in the abolitionists and free-soilers? These are matters worthy of our consideration. Those who preach peace should not be the first to commence and re-open an old quarrel. Besides, what good can the passage of these resolutions accomplish? Will they add any new force or validity to the compromise measures? They are already the law of the land, and must forever remain so unless repealed. Would it not be wiser, therefore, for all the friends of these measures to remain silent, and wait for the abolitionists to redeem their pledges to bring forward their proposition to repeal the fugitive law? When such a proposition shall be brought in, let some Senator from the North rise—and if no one else does it I will—and state that the country regards the Compromise as a final settlement; that a final settlement is not open to discussion; and therefore move to lay the proposition on the table. My word for it, any proposition to repeal or disturb the Compromise would be laid on the table by a vote of five to one. A motion to repeal the fugitive law would be voted down by a vote of five to one of the Northern men, without counting a Southern vote. Let such a test be made, and the moral effect will be a thousand-fold greater than the passage of any series of resolutions. I believe the course I indicate to be the true interest of the friends of the Compromise.— Besides, any attempt to keep up the agitation and an organization on the basis of the Compromise after it opponents have abandoned their active opposition and consented to acquiesce in it, although they do not approve of it, will be looked upon as a political movement for ambitious purposes. I desire to see both the great parties acquiesce in the Compromise as a final settlement, but I do not wish to have a new party organised on the basis of that measure. The democratic party is as good a Union party as I want, and I wish to preserve its principles and organization, and to triumph upon its old issues. I desire no new tests—no interpolations into the old creed. If the Compromise is to be made the test of faith, the two parties will, of course, be composed of the friends and opponents of that measure in battle array against each other, and the slavery question must of necessity continue the sole topic of discussion and controversy. That is the very thing which we wish to avoid, and which it was the object of the Compromise to prevent. I would therefore say to the friends of those measures, let us cease agitating, stop the debate, and drop the subject. If we do this, the Compromise will be recognised as a final settlement; if we do not, we have gained but little by its adoption. These are my views upon the subject, expressed with great deference to the opinions of others, but with the firmest conviction of their correctness.

RICHARD M. MOORE,
City Bill Poster and Distributor.
HAVING been at large expense in placing at every prominent corner of the city, and at the different hotels and other public places, PLACARD BOARDS of large dimensions, I am better prepared than any other poster in the Western country to give publicity to any business that may be entrusted to my care. The large share of business heretofore given me has enabled me to make arrangements that cannot be surpassed. The most careful and attentive men are in my employ, and I guarantee my work to be done efficiently, and to the perfect satisfaction of my employers, or no charge will be made.
The greatest care will be given to the distributing of circulars, medical works of any description, cards, notices, invitations, and all other kinds of printing that require general publicity. My terms are moderate, and orders promptly attended to. I respectfully refer to any respectable house in the city.
Orders left at the Journal, Courier, or Democrat office, or at Taylor's Book and Job Printing Rooms, 95 Third street, will meet with prompt attention. Letters from a distance, directed to me, box 947, Louisville, will be attended to with accuracy and despatch.

GREAT Sale of Clothing at the Mammoth.—Even at this dull season of the year, the sales of Clothing at the Mammoth is unusual. The selling off without regard to cost has awoke the sleepers who have been paying such exorbitant prices to other establishments under the garb of "selling off at cost," who now acknowledge that the only place for true bargains is the Mammoth Clothing Depot.
W. SAMUELS,
jan15 Mammoth Clothing Depot.
Caution.—No connection with any other store in town.

THE Headquarters for Children's Ready-Made Clothing is the Mammoth Clothing Depot, northeast corner of Market and Fourth streets, where all who are in search of an assortment and moderate prices flock to—where the old established reputation of the house stamps it as the climax for bargains—the Mammoth Clothing Depot.
jan15 W. SAMUELS.

BRILLIANT Teeth and Sweet Breath.—There can be not the slightest doubt but that many diseases arise from neglect of the teeth. Pure air is as necessary to health as food is to life; but those having dirty teeth and spongy gums are constantly inhaling an impure atmosphere, and hence many diseases arise which perhaps are never attributed to the right cause. JULES HAUEL'S PURIFIED CHARCOAL TOOTH-PASTE is decidedly the best remedy yet discovered for diseased teeth and gums, as it neutralizes the disagreeable odor arising from carious teeth, and renders the gums firm and healthy. All dentists agree that charcoal is an excellent dentrifice; but many persons have been fearful of using it on account of the hard and gritty substances which are generally mixed with it, and which are calculated to injure the enamel of the teeth.
Jules Hauel's Purified Charcoal Tooth-Paste is entirely free from this objection, as the coal from which it is prepared is formed from poplar wood burnt expressly for the purpose in an iron cylinder. The other ingredients are only such as are necessary to prepare the charcoal in this form, and in themselves are entirely innocuous. The Purified Charcoal Tooth-Paste will impart the most beautiful and brilliant whiteness to the teeth, keep the gums healthy, and make the breath pure and sweet. For sale wholesale and retail by

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.
NORTH'S BALSAM OF HOARHOUND AND NAPTHA, for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, and other affections of the Throat and Lungs.
THE COMPOUND BALSAM OF HOARHOUND is a tonic remedy, possessing anodyne properties without astringency. It produces a free and easy expectoration, etc. It has received the commendation of the medical faculty of Mobile, and several physicians of New Orleans, who prescribe it in their practice—which is evidence enough of its value, without affixing letters of recommendation. It will be found safe in its operation, pleasant and agreeable in taste.
We have removed from ourselves all liability of empiricism, by submitting the mode of manufacturing this preparation to the confidential examination of the following physicians of Mobile, who have certified to its being a safe, pleasant, and efficacious remedy for domestic use, being innocent in its effects on the system of the most delicate infant, or aged invalid:
Drs R. Lee Fearn, A. Lopez, J. H. Woodcock, F. A. Ross, N. Walkley, L. Chieusse, P. H. Lewis, J. B. Earle, C. A. Woodruff, A. B. C. Dossey, M. D., E. Gaillard, M. D., Drs. Murphey and Connell, of Clairborne, Alabama.

FRIDAY, : : : JANUARY 16, 1852.

☞ The weather continues to moderate; at noon yesterday the Thermometer stood at 40 degrees above zero.

☞ The steamer Consignee which sunk in the Mississippi river at Bainbridge a few days since, belonged to the owners of the West Newton, and was insured for her full value in a Nashville office. The Consignee was built at Wheeling, Va., in 1848.

☞ The following Steamers were in port yesterday: Warner, James Jackson, John Simpson, Buckeye, Navigation, Pike No. 9, Sea Gull, Blue Wing No. 1, and Telegraph No. 2.

☞ The steamer Duroc, on her way up from Cairo to St. Louis, a few days since, sprung a leak, damaging a considerable quantity of salt in her hold. A protest was entered.

☞ Capt. McPherson, determined not to be "behind the time," advertises that his "crack steamer," the Georgetown, will be off for New Orleans to-day. "All aboard" in season as she will positively go—if she can.

☞ The Fawn, with the go-ahead Hollcroft in command, will make a break through the ice, for Henderson this morning. The Fawn is a staunch boat and we doubt not that she will succeed. Passengers should be on board at an early hour, as she is going at the time advertised.

J. S. Moorhead is the agent.

THE MAIL BOATS.—We understand that a telegraphic despatch was received by Capt. McLellan of the Telegraph No. 2, stating that the Ben Franklin would not leave Cincinnati until this morning. Should the weather continue to moderate the Telegraph No. 2 will start for Cincinnati this morning at 10 A. M.

☞ The river yesterday was full of heavy floating ice, which made it very difficult for the Jeffersonville Ferry boats to ply regularly. It is falling slowly.

☞ The steamer Susquehanna, which has been detained in the canal several days by the ice, got out yesterday.

The Savannah is still aground in it.

OVER THE FALLS.—Three men who started from Jeffersonville in a skiff last evening, to come across to this side of the river, were caught in the ice and carried over the falls. We understand that they landed safely at Portsmouth.

STEAMER MARTHA WASHINGTON BURNT!—A rumor was quite current in this city last evening that the steamer Martha Washington had been destroyed by fire at Cairo. The rumor probably originated from the report of the burning of the George Washington at Grand Gulf, which, by the way, we omitted to mention yesterday.—The boat first exploded and then caught fire and was immediately consumed. She was bound from Cincinnati to New Orleans with a heavy cargo. She was commanded by Capt. Irwin, an experienced and careful steamboatman.

SOLD.—The steamer Ben West was sold at St. Louis, a few days since, by Captain Reeder, to Captain Mason for $1,200. She is to be placed in the Missouri river trade.

☞ Three steamers have been sunk on the Upper Mississippi since the first of January.—The Jewess at St. Louis, and the Dunkirk and Consignee between St. Louis and Cairo.

☞ Ice was gathered from the river, yesterday, eight inches in thickness.

☞ Messrs. North & Burrill manufacture a very superior article of Cologne water. For strength and delicacy of flavor it is unsurpassed.

☞ The captains of the Red river steamers, at New Orleans, have signed a card agreeing not to employ "runners" hereafter.

☞ Great Britain possesses 146 steamships and 32 iron steamers, 11 of which are 1,500 tons burthen.

☞ Col. Alex K McClung has returned to Mississippi, having resigned his station as minister at Bolivia.

☞ It is stated that Louis Napoleon has the whole Catholic priesthood of France in his favor.

☞ The Boston theatre was sold a few days since, for the sum of $170,000.

☞ Gov. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, will be inaugurated on the third Tuesday of the present month.

☞ A city paper noticed the fact that the cars ran off the track Wednesday, and didn't say "model road" once. What was the matter?

☞ We call the attention of city and country dealers to the advertisement of Messrs. Musselman & Co. This firm is celebrated as manufacturers of all the various brands of tobacco.

HEMP.—The St. Louis Intelligencer of the 10th inst., says: "The first movement in the hemp crop of the new year, took place yesterday. About 300 bales sold for the Ohio river, at $73a$88,50.

☞ Dubufe's beautiful painting of Adam and Eve has been visited, during the last week, by a very large number of persons. Our citizens will doubtless regret to learn that to-morrow night closes its exhibition in this city. Of course all who have not seen this exquisite painting will be present to-night. The price of admission has been reduced to twenty-five cents.

WOOD ENGRAVING.—The attention of the public is called to the card of Mr. Waggoner. His office is central, and he is a most skillful workman. We take pleasure in recommending him to all who may wish any description of carving or engraving on wood. His office is on the south side of Market, between Second and Third streets.

☞ Our readers will see in to-day's paper the advertisement of the Board of Trustees of the Louisville Commercial College. It will be seen that Mr. Hayden has been engaged to take charge of the writing department of the institution. Mr. Boyd has no superior as a teacher in book-keeping. Hundreds in our midst can testify to his superior capacity.

SHIFTING THE RESPONSIBILITIES.—The wife of a man named Craton, who was fined $3 before the Recorder of St. Louis, a few days since, made her appearance during court and laid two brawling children at the feet of the Marshal, telling him if he "chose to send her husband to the work house, he must provide for his children," and instantly left. An officer darted after her, and brought her back; but all the persuasions and threats the Marshal could make were wasted in the vain attempt to prevail upon her to take the children away. A compromise was finally agreed upon, by which the husband went "scot free."

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

[Correspondence of the Louisville Democrat.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8, 1852.

Messrs. Editors: Last evening we had quite a gala here in Washington. At one o'clock precisely L. Kossuth was introduced to the House of Representatives. The Speaker rose and welcomed Kossuth, pointing to a seat in front of the chair, and asked him to be seated. Kossuth answered:

"Sir, it is a remarkable fact in the history of mankind, that while through all the past honors were bestowed upon glory, and glory was attached only to success, the legislative authorities of this great republic bestow the highest honors on a persecuted exile, not conspicuous by glory, not favored by success, but engaged in a just cause.

"Sir, I thank the House of Representatives of the United States, in my own and my country's name, for the honor of this cordial welcome."

The House then adjourned, and the members were personally introduced to Kossuth.

The congressional dinner was really a brilliant affair. Two hundred and forty persons (all the hall could accommodate) sat down to an elegant repast, which, at its latter stage, was graced by the introduction of a vast number of ladies, who took their posts behind the chairs of members and Senators. Messrs. Webster, Corwin, and Stewart, were the members of the cabinet present. The mayor of Washington, marshal of the district, judge of the supreme court, officers of the army and navy, and the press of Washington, were well represented.

Kossuth's speech was the most eloquent yet delivered by that extraordinarily gifted man, and a large portion of the audience was dissolved in tears. Mr. Webster, whose health was proposed in a bumper, spoke from notes evidently well prepared; but the enthusiasm inspired into the whole company, evidently carried him far beyond the original proposition.—He expressed his view that Hungary was able to maintain the relations of an independent State, and proved it from statistical tables which he had taken the trouble to procure for that purpose. He alluded particularly to the fact that Hungary has a population thrice as large at least as that of the United Colonies was at the time of the Declaration of Independence. Mr. Webster also alluded to his letter written to Mr. Hulsemann during the summer of 1850, in terms well calculated to produce a striking effect. The mention of the Austrian Charge's name was the signal to a tumultuous uproar of applause, so pointed, and so entirely undiplomatic, that Mr. Hulsemann would no doubt demand his passports, if he knew where he was going. He will, however, wait for instructions from his government.

General Cass made a magnificent speech in answer to a toast—"General Cass, the American Minister who first successfully intervened in the quintuple alliance." Gen. Cass said he was ready to-morrow to vote for a declaration that Russia, by using violence toward Hungary, had been guilty of a flagrant breach of the law of nations, and he would leave it to those who should come after him to vindicate the truth of this declaration at the proper time and as circumstances may call on us to do so. This speech was received with immense applause.

Stephen A. Douglas, in reply to a sentiment expressive of our abhorrence of the doctrine of intervention into the internal affairs of other nations, spoke most fervently in favor of upholding and vindicating the national law, trampled underfoot by the five great powers of Europe. He was ready to declare what the United States considered national law, and the United States had a right to speak their views on the subject, without any nation in Europe taking offence at it. We should not please these nations, his care, was to act in conformity with public law, and to give them no cause of offence. He thought the United States were bound to succor the principle of freedom wherever it sprang up. He was for recognizing at once every liberal government, opening diplomatic intercourse with it, and making treaties for the protection of mutual commerce. He would leave further acts to circumstances and to considerations of polity, as the case would present itself to our national consideration.

Judge Douglas' speech was full of warmth, ardor and earnestness, and was most enthusiastically applauded.

There is no doubt whatever that Judge Douglas, is daily gaining in popularity and respect of his countrymen. In the labyrinth of political intrigues now going on for the presidency, it is a singular fact, that the partizans of all other candidates consider him the most available candidate, and that all of them declare him their second choice, after they shall compliment their particular friends. The man who is the first choice of more than one half of the party, and the second choice of all the rest, has in my opinion, a pretty good chance not only of being the nominee (that may be effected by combinations,) but of being elected by the most unprecedented majority. With the nomination of Douglas, the doom of whiggery would be sealed for at least half a century.

CAPITOL.

☞ See advertisement of situation wanted, in another column.

☞ The mails are regularly irregular, when the river is open and all's right; but for a day or two, we have had no Eastern mails at all.

☞ Thanks to Mr. F. KEANE, the gentlemanly and accommodating conductor, on the Frankfort Railroad, for continued favors to this office. Under his charge passengers receive that attention and kindness, which renders him such a decided favorite with the traveling public.

☞ Our friend Saml. Hyman seems to have provided for the emergency of the occasion, by having furnished Marble Hall with a sufficient quantity of fresh Oysters in the shell, to last during the close of navigation. They are decidedly the best that have been here this season.

☞ The alarm of fire yesterday morning about 7 o'clock was caused by partial burning of the Canal Exchange on Water street, between 8th and 9th streets. The firemen hauled their engines down to the river, and it was with much difficulty that they got them back again.

☞ The Frankfort Commonwealth and Maysville Eagle, still insist that there is a union of the democratic party with the free soilers North. They have no right to say one word on the subject. There whole party are nothing but a grand coalition of Southern men and free soilers, and therefore they should hold their tongues, and pens too. We have a right to denounce such coalitions; they have not. It is down-right satanic impudence in them to say a word on the subject.

☞ The steamer Lady of Augusta passed up to the glass works yesterday, and took on board a large quantity of glass, destined, we learn, to supply the Southern demand. It is a good sign to see a boat loading at our wharves, with our own manufacture, for a distant market, it seems to give us assurance of a speedy return of the cargo in the shape of dollars and bills.—Knoxville (Tenn.) Plebian.

LATEST STREAK OF LIGHTNING

REPORTED FOR THE LOUISVILLE DAILY DEMOCRAT

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP ELDORADO.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.

The steamer Eldorado, from Chagres, with dates to the 4th of January, arrived at midnight with California mails to the 16th and $1,682,907 on freight and $300,000 in the hands of passengers.

The steamer Panama and Republic, from San Francisco, had arrived at Panama with dates from San Francisco one day later than our last accounts.

The Eldorado was delayed two days at Chagres by the non-arrival of the steamer Panama, which steamer was obliged to bear the steamer Republic company, she being in crippled state for at least 9 days.

The Eldorado experienced heavy gales from the north-west, through which she has proved herself a first rate sea boat.

She left at Chagres the steamer Union for New York, via Jamaica, to sail next day, also the U. S. sloop of war Albany, Capt. Platt, which arrived January 2d, from St. Domingo. She was waiting orders.

The Eldorado has 211 passengers. She brings one day later advices, from San Francisco, but papers at hand furnish nothing of special importance.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER UNION.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.

Arrival of Steamship Union from Chagres;—all was quiet at Chagres when the Union left. Panama papers of Jan. 2 have been received.

The steamship Republic was one month in making the distance from San Francisco to Panama.

The British war steamer Driver arrived at Panama on the 28th of December on her way to England from California.

The Panama Journal says that there were 3000 passengers in the city during week. The papers contain nothing later from Chili and southern part of California.

The Alta Californian of Dec. 16th, received by the steamer, which gives the following as the statements of gold by steamer Panama to New York $1,160,756; to London $119,000; to Orleans $30,214—total $4,267,000.

Three of the persons concerned in the shooting of Sheriff Buchanan have been arrested and confined at Marysville.

The Nevada Journal recommends the division of the waters south of Yuba river so as to cause them to flow through the diggings of that town. It is estimated that the work will cost $2,000,000.

Miners in the vicinity of Wood's Creek and Union Creek, are doing well.

The steamer Constitution was to leave San Francisco on 23d Dec. for Sandwich Islands. She is intended as a regular packet between the two countries.

The Keystone papers state that a bill for the erection of a light house on Bluff Point near the harbor of Port Royal has been ordered to be engrossed in the Assembly.

From Boston.

BOSTON, Jan. 15.

The annual message of Governor Boutwell, was sent to the Legislature to-day. In regard to Hungary he takes strong grounds not only for welcoming Kossuth, but adds that the common sentiment of America, is on the side of the Constitution and the Government. But this sentiment will not be satisfied with an individual unofficial expression. It will demand through the diplomatic agent of the country a distinct declaration from Russia and Austria as to their future purpose. These Governments shall assert the right of interference in the domestic affairs of European matters, or shall decline to make a distinct declaration upon this point it would seem proper for this Government to give them notice that we assert an equal right on our part to interfere in favor of Republicanism, and to judge of the necessity of interference as events transpire.

We cannot quietly submit to the absorption of the smaller states by the large; and final subjection of all to two or three allied powers. Such movements will not only be fatal to our commerce, but to the general industry and free principles of America.

The financial condition of the State is unsatisfactory. The expenditures were about $75,000 over the receipts, and should the expenses exceed the income of the present year he recommends direct taxation.

From New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 13.

A heavy snow storm fell last night, and there are now 3 inches on the ground this morning, which astonishes the oldest inhabitant. The thermometer stands 23 degrees above zero, the coldest ever known.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 15.

Sales cotton to-day, 800 bales at full prices. Ohio flour has advanced to $3 76a3 87. Mess pork, sales 1000 raw $14.

From St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 15.

Yesterday and to-day the weather was moderate, and thawing. The river is gorged with ice both above and below. The Glencoe which was lying below Jefferson Barracks, arrived to day. The Alton packet has resumed her trips. Nothing doing in the market. The number of hogs slaughtered to this date is 43 000. The entire number that will be killed this season it is thought will reach 50,000.

From New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15, M.

The steamer Union, from Chagres via Jamaica, with dates to the 15th ult., arrived this morning, bringing 186 passengers. She brings nothing new from either Jamaica or California.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.

Judge John Jones of the southern district of California of San Jose, died at San Francisco December 16, aged 28 years.

In consequence of the cessation of the supplies of flour from the Atlantic ports and Valparaiso, holders are putting up prices.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 M.

The cotton market is steady with small sales at yesterday's prices. Flour quiet. Wheat is firm with sales of 1,000 bushels. Rye is scarce at 78c. Barley is abundant at 75a78c. Corn is dull. The provision market is quiet with only limited sales. Bacon is firm; sales 1,000 bbls Western middles at 7½. Lard buoyant; sales 100 bbls at 9¼, and 150 kegs at 9a11. Sales of 150 bales hemp at $1 20. Sales Galena lead at $4 43. 100 gallons linseed oil at 61c.

From Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 15, M.

The river has fallen 3 inches since last evening. The weather is cloudy.

THIRTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

[FIRST SESSION.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.

SENATE.—Mr. Clemens presented a joint resolution of the legislature of Alabama, expressive of its sentiments on the policy of the United States, with regard to foreign nations. They urge that the true policy of the United States is to encourage relations of amity with all nations.

Mr. Fish presented a joint petition from Mr. E. K. Collins and associates, in regard to the Atlantic mail service.

Mr. Clemens reported a bill allowing the representatives of John R. Jones, to locate certain lands, which was reconsidered and ordered to a third reading.

Mr. Borland introduced a bill granting lands to Arkansas, to aid in constructing Railroads; also one, granting Hot Springs, Ark., to that State.

Mr. Mallory resumed his remarks on the subject of flogging in the navy.

Mr. Hale supported with great earnestness its abolition. The subject was postponed for a week.

After a short executive session, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Various bills were introduced by general consent; among them one by Mr. Fowler, regulating the mileage of members of Congress, which was referred to the committee on mileage. Also one by Mr. Falkner to establish a board for the settlement of claims against us—referred.

Mr. Moore of La., from judiciary committee, introduced a bill making an appropriation for the removal of the raft in Red river.

Mr. Mace introduced a joint resolution for the amendment of the Constitution of the U. S., making U. S. Senators elected by the people.

Mr. Yates introduced a bill making an appropriation for the improvement of Illinois river, and moved it be referred to the committee on roads and canals.

Mr. Walsh called for the yeas and nays, believing this to be best.

The question was decided in the affirmative, by a vote of 113 to 70.

Mr. Sibley introduced a bill granting to the several States the proceeds of certain lands for the support of the indigent and insane.

Mr Conger asked leave to introduce a joint resolution, declaratory of the laws of nations in reference to the doctrine of non-intervention, and the views of the Government and people of the United States in relation to the interference of Austria in the affairs of Hungary—objected to.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the bill explanatory of the Bounty Land Act of 1850. Mr. Tuck opposed the bill as unnecessary. Mr. Dunham moved an amendment making land warrants assignable, under certain rule. The moving hour having expired, it was laid aside, and the various documents &c. on the Speaker's table were then disposed of.

The Senate bill appropriating $1200 for the library to fit up the rooms, &c., was passed.

Adjourned.

COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE LOUISVILLE DEMOCRAT,
Thursday Evening, Jan. 15, 1852.

Owing to the extreme cold weather which has prevailed for several days past, and the obstruction to navigation by floating ice, business has again been restricted to a considerable degree. The market is very firm for every commodity, and we notice a slight advance in Flour and Mess Pork. The weather to-day is moderating, though still quite cold.

There is very little doing in Bagging and Rope. We hear of some light sales at 13 and 6.

The Grocery market is well supplied. Rio Coffee we quote at 8¼a8½c for old common, and 9c for fair. A sale of 35 hhds fair Sugar at 5a5½c, common qualities we quote at 4¼a4½ and 4¾c. Plantation Molasses, 26c. Rice, 4¼a4½c. Western Reserve Cheese, 6½c and firm.

Flaxseed has advanced, and the mills are now paying $1 10 cash. Cloverseed, $5 50.

In the Provision market there is but a limited business doing. Holders of Mess Pork are firm at $13 25. Rump Pork we quote at $10. Sales from wagons of Shoulders at 7c, and Sides and Hams at 8c. Prime Lard in kegs, 8c; Country Lard, 7a7½c; Pork house Lard, 7¾c; Grease Lard, 6½c.

Flour has advanced, and sales of superfine brands have been made at $3 35a$3 40 and $3 50; extra brands we quote at $3 60a$3 75. There are no receipts, and the stock is getting low.

Raw Whisky, 15½a16c; no receipts.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

THURSDAY, Jan. 15.

TODD'S WAREHOUSE.—The sales at this warehouse today amounted to 9 hhds, at the following rates: $2 80, 2 85, 1 90, 2 50, 3 50, 3 25, 2 05, 2 75, 2 90.

PICKETT WAREHOUSE.—Sales to day of 6 hhds, at $2 50, 3 00, 1 95, 1 90, 2 35, 3 50.

WISTAR'S

BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY!

The best Remedy ever known to Man for Coughs, Asthma, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, Influenza, Bleeding of the Lungs, Difficulty of Breathing, Liver Affections, Pain or Weakness of the Breast or Side, first stages of Consumption, &c., &c.

IN short, this Balsam is peculiarly adapted to every disease of the Lungs and liver which is produced in our ever-varying climate.

Wild Cherry has long been known to possess important medicinal properties. This fact is familiar to every matron in our land, and physicians often prescribe it in different forms for a variety of complaints. Tar, also, has been equally noted for its virtues; and some physicians, whose names are familiar to the whole country, have gone so far as to declare that even CONSUMPTION could be cured by that alone. In other hands, again, it was nearly valueless, owing, no doubt, to their ignorance in preparing and administering it—a difficulty now entirely obviated by patient experience.

The extraordinary medicinal powers of these two substances are now, for the first time, combined and embodied in DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. By a nice chemical process, everything deleterious or useless is rejected, so that what remains is the most extraordinary and truly efficacious remedy for all kinds of pulmonary and liver diseases ever known to man. To convince all unbelievers that our theory is really true, we refer to a few cases of cures performed by this wonderful medicine:

Another astonishing Cure!

E. Kalb, a highly respectable merchant of Rushville, Fairfield county, Ohio, sent us the following voluntary tribute to Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry:

RUSHVILLE, Fairfield county, O., April 6, 1851.

Mr. J. D. Park—Dear Sir: I wish to state to you that my daughter, Amanda, aged sixteen years, had, about a year since, a very severe attack of measles, which reduced her very much, and left her with a racking cough. I employed all of the physicians within our reach for the purpose of removing her cough, but without success. She appeared to be sinking into a decline, with every symptom of Consumption.

I then tried Dr. Rogers' Liverwort and Tar; but this aggravated her cough, and gave her symptoms of a still more malignant character. I was now most seriously alarmed, and it was with trembling fear that I from day to day saw the progress of that insatiable disease, Consumption. I really despaired of my daughter's recovery. But I providentially saw the certificate of Jonathan Coulson, whose daughter, Sarah Jane, was cured of Consumption by Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. This created a faint hope that it might help my daughter, and I immediately commenced using it, and it almost instantly gave relief; her health was improved from the first bottle, and by the use of two bottles of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry she was restored to perfect health, and she is not now at all predisposed to a cough.

I will say to all that are afflicted with any disease tending to Consumption, do not despair; for Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry will cure you, if you will but try it. E. KALB.

The Genuine Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry has a fac simile of the signature of Henry Wistar, M. D., Philadelphia, and "Sanford & Park," on a finely executed steel engraved wrapper. No other can be genuine.

☞ Price $1 per bottle—six bottles for $5.

Sold by J. D. PARK, Cincinnati, O., Northeast corner of Fourth and Walnut streets—entrance on Walnut street—to whom all orders must be addressed.

Dr. Gaysott's Improved Extract OF Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla!

Scrofula, Syphilis, Mercurial Complaints, Cancer, Gangrene, Rheumatism, and a vast variety of other disagreeable and dangerous diseases are speedily and perfectly cured by the use of

Dr. Guysott's Improved Extract of YELLOW DOCK AND SARSAPARILLA!

SALINE, Mich., Oct. 6, 1851.

MR. JOHN D. PARK—Dear Sir: It is with unutterable feelings of gratitude that I am alive, through the Divine Providence of God, and by the wonder working agency of that excellent medicine "Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla," to give you a few symptoms of my almost hopeless case.

In the winter of 1850, I was attacked with a severe pain, which was gradually extending through the whole right side and leg; at the same time, a total prostration of my physical system; also, my leg had shrunk to about two thirds of its common size. I procured the attendance of a skillful practitioner, who pronounced my disease one of the worst forms of liver complaint. He said my case was one not easily handled, but prescribed for me. I remained under his treatment until I was satisfied he could not help me. I then procured of your agent at this place, W. A. Beers, two bottles of Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla, from which I received a vast amount of benefit. After having used four bottles more I was able to pursue my business without any inconvenience, and have been since that time a well man, while but a short time since I was confined to my bed three fourths of the time; and I cannot ascribe the return of my health to any other cause than by the agency of that truly valuable medicine, Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. HASSEL VAURIEFF.

SALINE, Oct. 14, 1851.

MR. J. D. PARK—Dear Sir: I send you the foregoing certificate, and so far as I am acquainted with his case, it is all true. I procured it, thinking it might be a benefit to you and to the afflicted. You have the privilege of using it as you think best. Yours, W. A. BEERS.

The following letter is from a highly respectable Physician, who enjoys an extensive practice:

NAVARRE, Stark co., O., Nov. 1, 1851.

DR. JOHN D. PARK—Dear Sir: "Dr. Guysott's Extract of Sarsaparilla." This medicine has been prescribed by me for the last three years, with good effect, in general debility, Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic and Nervous Diseases. In all Female Complaints it certainly is unequaled.

In the use of this medicine the patient constantly gains strength and vigor, a fact worthy of great consideration. It is pleasant to the taste and smell, and can be used by persons with the most delicate stomachs, with safety under any circumstances. I am speaking from experience, and to the afflicted I advise its use.

DR. J. S. LEEFER.

EXTRACT OF A LETTER FROM AN EXTENSIVE MERCHANT IN NEENAH, WIS.

NEENAH, Wis., Oct. 29th, 1851.

MR. JOHN D. PARK—Dear Sir: I am out of your "Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry," and "Dr. Guysott's Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla." Please forward a supply immediately.

Your Balsam of Wild Cherry worked to a charm here; not a bottle failed of affording immediate relief, and in every instance but one (an old gentleman 71 years of age) it cured, and the Yellow Dock has done equally well. I took three bottles myself last fall, and enjoyed perfect health last winter, for the first winter for eleven years, being troubled with a severe eruption of the skin which laid me up from two weeks to four months every winter and spring until last winter.

Henry E. Jones, a brother merchant and a particular friend of mine, took two bottles of the Yellow Dock for a Scrofulous Eruption, which has worked an entire cure.

My store is corner of Wisconsin Avenue and Walnut street. Yours, Respectfully,

CHARLES E. CASE.

AMUSEMENTS.

ONE WEEK MORE.

AT ODD FELLOWS' HALL.

DUBUFE'S Celebrated Original Paintings of ADAM AND EVE IN PARADISE.

Representing the Temptation and Expulsion, painted for Charles X of France. These sublime works of Art, which are acknowledged to be the finest ever exhibited in the United States, were exhibited in New York and other cities from 1832 to 1837, and the past 11 years in Europe, to the universal admiration of over two millions of persons.

The agent having been informed that two spurious pictures, purporting to be copies, have been exhibited in many of the cities and towns of the Western States deems it necessary to state that these are the original and only Pictures of the same subjects ever painted by Dubufe—having never been allowed to be copied, and have been in possession of the present proprietor since 1839.

Open from 9 in the morning till 9 at night. Brilliantly illuminated every evening.

Admission the whole week 25 cents.

Schools admitted on liberal terms.

The agent respectfully informs the citizens of Louisville that these are the same Original Pictures which were exhibited in this city July, 1850. A description given every evening at 8 o'clock. jan3 dtf

THE GREAT KENTUCKY REMEDY

DR. JOHN BULL'S SARSAPARILLA

IT is put up in real quart bottles, and contains the strength of six times as much pure Honduras Sarsaparilla as any similar preparation in America. Price one dollar per bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.

It has been a well established fact for years past, that Sarsaparilla, when pure and properly prepared, was the only true panacea for all diseases originating from an impure state of the blood, the use of mercury, intoxicating drinks, evil habits in youth, barrenness, &c. We boldly assert that JOHN BULL'S FLUID EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA is the only preparation before the public that is prepared on strictly scientific principles, and of uniform strength. The Sarsaparilla is purchased without regard to price, and every pound, before being used, is subject to the strictest chemical tests, and its genuineness ascertained before being used.

Bull's Sarsaparilla also contains the virtues of several other valuable medical roots, together forming the best compound, and producing the greatest curative agent in the known world! This medicine, when used according to directions, will cure without fail—

Scrofula or King's Evil, Cancers, Tumors, Eruptions of the Skin, Erysipelas, Chronic Sore Eyes, Ringworm or Tetters, Scald Head, Rheumatism, Pains in the Bones or Joints, old Sores and Ulcers, Swelling of the Glands, Syphilis, Dyspepsia, Salt Rheum, Diseases of the Kidneys, Loss of Appetite, Diseases arising from the use of Mercury, Pain in the Side and Shoulders, General Debility, Dropsy, Lumbago, Jaundice, Costiveness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Weakness of the Chest, Pulmonary Affections, and all other diseases tending to produce Consumption, Liver Complaint, Female Irregularities and Complaints, Sick and Nervous Headache, Low Spirits, Night Sweats, Exposure or Imprudence in Life, Chronic Constitutional Diseases; and is a spring and summer drink, and general tonic for the system, and a gentle and pleasant purgative, far superior to Blue Lick or Congress Water, Salts, or Seidlitz Powders.

READ! READ!! READ!!!

The truly wonderful and remarkable cures that have come under our immediate observation have more than convinced us that Doctor Bull is a great man, and that his Fluid Extract of Sarsaparilla is the most valuable combination of vegetable extracts that the science of chemistry has yet produced. All success to the Doctor in his new enterprise, say we.—Louisville Courier.

We agree with our neighbor of the Courier, that Dr Bull is a great man, and his Sarsaparilla is a greater medicine; and we are fully convinced that the Doctor, with his sarsaparilla, will create a far more enthusiastic excitement east than Barnum did with Jenny Lind. We would not have our readers to understand us as classing the Doctor and his Sarsaparilla with Barnum and Jenny Lind, because all who spent their dollar for a bottle of Bull's Sarsaparilla will get its equivalent, and we have heard it stated that many, after hearing the divine Jenny, would have given their pocket money from ten to twenty dollars, to get it, it was paying pretty dear for the whistle. One objection we have to Bull's Sarsaparilla, and only one—it is exceedingly pleasant to the taste, and invigorating to the system, that, once in the habit of using it, 'tis equal to smoking fine regalias, chewing Langhorne's twist, or drinking Walker's mint juleps—you can't quit it.—Lou. Democrat.

The above complimentary notices from the editors of the Louisville Courier and Democrat were endorsed by Geo. D. Prentice, Esq., the distinguished editor of the Louisville Journal, in the following flattering notice:

There is nothing in the world of the greatness of Dr Bull, and the excellence of his Sarsaparilla. Some of the most eminent physicians in the city, have applauded the Sarsaparilla, and, what is a great deal better, the million patronize it too. It is having a tremendous sale. The celebrated Jayne has, from the profits of his medicine, built a granite palace in Philadelphia, seven stories high, and Dr. Bull, if he chooses, can very soon build one twice as high as that. It is, we are told, very difficult for him to walk through our streets at all, as he finds himself arrested at every step by grateful men and women, many of whom have traveled from great distances to look upon their benefactor, and to bless him for their wonderful restoration to health. The Doctor, with all his extraordinary merit, is naturally very modest and retiring; yet we trust that the eastern cities will, in justice to themselves, give a fitting reception to the distinguished man who has made as glorious a campaign against human diseases as Gen. Scott made against the Mexicans.

NOTICE TO FEMALES.

John Bull's Sarsaparilla is one of the greatest female medicines now in existence. In those numerous cases where the constitution is debilitated, the nervous energy is lessened, when the efforts of nature are weak and deficient, or are prostrated and overwrought, when the face is pale and colorless, the strength feeble and yielding, the spirits troubled and depressed the health broken, mind shaken, and consequently the happiness destroyed—then Bull's Sarsaparilla is a sovereign remedy. It assists nature in the performance of her duty, braces the whole system, and permanently the natural energies, removes obstructions, checks excesses, creates pure and healthy blood, and imparts health and happiness.—Were ladies generally to adopt the use of this medicine, we would see far less suffering, disease and unhappiness among them than now exists, health would take the place of disease, the rosy cheek would succeed the pallid face; we should have smiles instead of tears, and perhaps a happy long life instead of one cut short by disease, or made miserable by continued suffering and affliction. At that critical period termed the "turn of life," which is often attended with so much danger, Bull's Sarsaparilla is found to exert a most beneficial effect. All ladies approaching this crisis should be apprised of this fact, and avail themselves of this valuable medicine.

A BEAUTIFUL CLEAR SKIN.

How we all admire a clear, beautiful, white skin, and a rosy colored cheek. How often do we see persons, not possessing this "desideratum so devoutly to be wished," resorting to cosmetics, lotions, washes, paints, and coloring materials, to restore to them a semblance of what disease has deprived them of, and that, too, with great injury to the skin. Bull's Sarsaparilla is the best cosmetic known. It beautifies the skin by removing every particle of morbid and diseased matter from the blood, making it pure, healthy and vigorous, giving activity to every minute vessel, and changing the yellow and dark countenance to the bloom and freshness of youth. Ladies, abandon the use of paints and mixtures, and use Bull's Sarsaparilla, the only effectual remedy. "A word to the wise is sufficient," and a hint is enough for the ladies.

We earnestly invite all persons who are suffering with any of the ills that flesh is heir to, to call on Dr. John Bull's agent, and get a copy of Bull's Family Journal, gratis; and for the sake of humanity, we hope that a single individual will not be found unwilling to give Bull's Sarsaparilla a trial, after reading, and recollecting, at the same time, that it is impossible for the Doctor to publish the tenth part of the number of certificates of astounding cures performed by his Sarsaparilla. The amount of testimony voluntarily showered on Dr. Bull's Sarsaparilla, from well known and distinguished individuals, both in public and private life, has been perfectly overwhelming.

A HUNG JURY.

BY SOL. SMITH.

Who in St. Louis does not know Noah Ridgely? Who in St. Louis has not known him for a long time—long enough not to know "any body else"—but a long, long time—years? Even in New Orleans, Noah is tolerably well known; and at the river towns intermediate, there are a few "fellers" who are on terms of speaking acquaintance with him. In fact, wherever the steamer 'Hanibal' has made landing—(and where is the landing she has not made a stop at?)—Noah has been seen or known at some time or other. But in St. Louis—well, there's no use writing about how well he is known there. And wherever known, Noah is a favorite—I might say a great favorite. He has been clerk of the aforesaid 'Hanibal' for I don't know how many years—and the 'Hanibal' continues to perform voyages between New Orleans and St. Louis, with her single but powerful engine (out of the St. Louis — Capt. Swon's St. Louis,) and seems as good as new; and Noah comes around with his freight bills with astonishing regularity—and he appears better than new!

But to my story. In St. Louis we all know the difficulty of procuring jurors to try cases before justices of the peace—it being almost next to an impossibility to get together twelve citizens, 'good men and true,' who are willing to sit for two or three hours in a justice's office, which is never, by any accident, larger than a moderate sized band-box, surrounded by a promiscuous crowd which always gathers, filling up room, doors, and windows, whenever a 'jury trial' is to come off—especially if lawyers are employed in it.

It so happened, 'once upon a time,' that two merchants had a little misunderstanding, which resulted in their 'going to law' before Justice Walsh. The amount in dispute was a mere trifle; but each was obstinate and would not give way a jot; so to law they went. To make matters worse, each must have a lawyer to help him on; one of the lawyers determined to make as much out of the case as he could, asserted the constitutional right of his client, and demanded a jury. A venire facias was accordingly issued, and Constable Busby started off to execute his writ.

At the expiration of about an hour, during which the court, attorneys, and spectators waited with exemplary patience, Busby returned followed, by one solitary individual, carrying a huge lot of freight bills in one hand, and a half-smoked cigar in the other—it was Noah.

'Have you summoned the jury, Mr. Constable? inquired the justice.

'Yes sir,' replied Busby, throwing down upon the table his writ with the names of twelve citizens inscribed thereon, 'I have summoned them, but they won't come.'

'Won't come, won't come?' remarked the justice, 'we'll, see about that. Clerk, write out attachments for these gentlemen. How many are there who refuse to obey the order of the court?'

'Eleven, your honor,' answered the sweating constable; 'this is the only one of the lot, (pointing to our friend Noah) I have been able to scare up; and he don't seem much disposed to serve—says he intends to plead his privilege. Pray, Mr. Ridgely, have you to plead? What valid reason can you give the court why you should not serve on this jury?' asked the justice.

'I believe,' replied Noah, stretching himself up to his full height, and taking the cigar from his mouth which he had been industriously smoking since he entered the office—'I believe a fireman is exempt from jury duty?'

'Certainly,' certainly,' replied the justice. 'But I was not aware you belonged to either of the engine companies. May I ask, Mr. Ridgely, which engine you run with?

'Which engine? The old St. Louis! You are aware, perhaps, Mr. Justice, that the old St. Louis had two engines; one of them constitutes at this time the motive power of the Hanibal, and that is the engine I run with—and when hard pushed for hands, I have upon occasion acted as fireman—therefore I suppose, I'm excused from jury duty.'

'Not so fast, my friend,' interposed the justice, 'this will not excuse you—'

'Not!' exclaimed Noah, with apparent surprise, 'then' he continued, taking a seat on the jury bench, 'bring on your case, since I am over-ruled, and let us get through with it as soon as we can, for I'll be hanged if I stop long.'

Busby at this juncture returned from another unsuccessful foray through the neighboring streets and alleys. 'Can't scare up a single man,' he reported, sitting down and wiping the perspiration from his face with a cotton pocket handkerchief which he carried in his hat.

'What is to be done?' inquired the lawyers.

'I am sure I don't know,' answered Justice Walsh, 'unless you decide to take Mr. Ridgely here, and let him decide your case.'

TRUSSES.

MARSH'S LATE IMPROVED SELF ADJUSTING TRUSS—the embodiment of ingenuity. Skill and science are beautifully blended in this useful instrument, admirably adapting itself to the different movements and positions of the body. Its perfect action and certain pressure at all times and under all circumstances, gives to the wearer that confidence in his safety so necessary to his happiness. The instrument is neat and compact, dispensing wholly with straps and buckles, leaving the wearer a free use of his limbs, he becomes unconscious of its presence, and pleased with its relief, continues to wear it a few months, when a cure is permanently effected.

Also, MARSH & CO.'S ABDOMINAL SUPPORTERS, of various patterns; one of which claims especial attention, as it is worn with much comparative comfort to that of others, being so constructed as to give a uniform support to the Back and Abdomen, doing away with the steel spring, so annoying to the wearer. The above article will be found of great benefit to persons afflicted with pain in the back and sides, inability to be upon their feet for any length of time, which arises from a displacement of parts that are readily restored by timely application of a properly constructed instrument.

Office, No 2½ Maiden Lane, New York, where the above named articles may be had at wholesale or retail, and warranted to give satisfaction in every instance. Sold by JOHN W. GAMBLE & CO., No. 401 Main st., Louisville, Ky.

HEWETT'S
National Daguerrean Gallery,
(NEXT DOOR TO NORTHERN BANK)
CORNER OF FIFTH AND MAIN STREETS.

AFTER selling out the Old Gallery, over Isaac Cromie's paper store, HEWETT visited the Eastern cities, where he purchased for the proprietor a large and choice stock of materials; Cameras, of the late improved order, as also several valuable improvements in the style and execution of Daguerreotypes. These, with his long practice in the art, fully justify the proprietor in saying that he can now furnish to his former customers and friends finer and more exquisitely finished MINIATURES than have ever been offered to this community.

DR. A. J. VANDERSLICE,
Late Professor of the Ecole Clinique de Medicine & Pharmaciels Paris, having been practising medicine 29 years past,
BEGS leave to announce to his friends and the public generally, that he still continues to devote his time and attention to the alleviation of human suffering, by curing the following diseases: Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Fits, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Piles, Fistulas, Gout, Rheumatism, Scrofula, White Swellings, Diseases of the Skin, Nervous Affections, Fever and Ague, Billous Complaints, &c., &c.
The success which Dr. V. has met with by his peculiar mode of treating all kinds of diseases, has been astonishing—curing the most desperate cases after repeated failures of the most eminent practitioners in the country. As a proof of the Doctor's merits untried, he will undertake the cure of all patients without charge, excepting the cost of the medicine, requiring no fee until after the restoration of their health, and the full satisfaction to the patient's mind of the benefit conferred.—This is the principle upon which Dr. Vanderslice is governed in all cases with his practice.
Persons afflicted with Bullions, &c., &c., can have them entirely removed and permanently cured without pain. Thousands of persons have been cured by Dr. V., and can bear testimony to his wonderful success.
Females suffering with Irregularities, nervousness, debility, &c., can be permanently cured by the treatment of Dr. Vanderslice. Ladies, let no scruples nor false delicacy hinder you from applying in proper person, when you can be so readily restored to health.
Diseases of a peculiar character are guaranteed to be removed in a few days, radically, without offensive or deleterious medicine. Dr. V. being eminently successful in this branch of practice, patients would save much time and money, to say nothing of anxiety of mind, by giving him an early call. He warrants to all, no matter how severe and long standing it may have been, a thorough cure, or no pay. Invalids! your true interest is to apply to Dr. V. at once, who has the proper medicines to meet all cases.
Dr Vanderslice begs leave to say further, that he has with him remedies prepared in a scientific and skilful manner under his own eye, to cure each and all diseases in which his attention has been so long directed, with full directions how to use them; therefore invalids from any sections of the country, by addressing a letter, post paid, to the doctor, stating symptoms, &c., and enclosing a fee, can have advice and medicine sent them.
Office hours from 7 to 12 o'clock, A. M., and from 2 to 6 P. M.
The Doctor may be found at all times by examining the newspapers.

CERTIFICATES OF CURES PERFORMED BY
DR. A. J. VANDERSLICE.
PHILADELPHIA, May 17, 1849.
THIS is to certify that I have long been afflicted with the Dropsy, from which I have suffered much bodily as well as mental pain. I have tried many remedies with scarce any benefit, and applied to several eminent physicians, who promised a speedy cure; but, unfortunately, their promises were never realized. I was induced to try Dr. A. J. VANDERSLICE, who soon, by his course of treatment, restored me to health. I am induced to make it public, in hopes that others unfortunate may consult him with like success.

This is to certify that Dr. A. J. VANDERSLICE attended my mother, Frances May, in the month of January last, for a severe attack of Rheumatism, and, after the use of one bottle of Balsam that he gave her, she is at present, and has been since its use, entirely well.

All that is Needed!
From M. BEASLEY, Esq., Concordia, Tenn.
MESSRS. B. A. FAHNESTOCK & CO.—Gents: One of our boys, about twelve years old, was taken ill with fever, and for about a week we suspected chills to be the disease. A neighbor, however, whose child had been saved by a vial of your Vermifuge, and who always gives that medicine for symptoms of chills, advised us to try it in this case, which we did immediately. The half of a vial expelled a great quantity of worms, some of them as thick as the little finger, after which the boy got perfectly well. I think in more than half the cases of sickness of children, the use of the Vermifuge will be all that is needed. It has saved many lives in this part of the country, and we think we could not do without it. In my son's family, where there are several children, your Vermifuge is almost the only remedy they ever have occasion to use for the various ailments that little ones are subject to. There is no remedy more generally known or more highly esteemed in west Tennessee than your Vermifuge, and it gives me pleasure to offer this testimony to its excellence.
Yours truly, M. BEASLEY.

Rheumatism, Gout, and Neuralgia,
WE HAVE abundant testimonials to show that MITCHELL'S INDIAN RHEUMATIC EXTRACT has cured more hard cases of Rheumatism in the last two years, than any other remedy which has ever been brought before the public. The following certificate from a Physician in this city of his own case of more than 40 years standing, ought to convince any one of the efficacy of this great remedy.
LOUISVILLE, KY., May 8, 1850.
Messrs. RAYMOND & PATTEN—Gentlemen: I have been using Mitchell's Indian Rheumatic Extract, with more benefit to myself than any of all the remedies I have ever made trial of in the course of forty years, during which time I have labored under Rheumatism. I am now relieved of all pain, and of the many cases in this city of a rheumatic character, I am sure that there has not been one of failure, where the medicine has been properly applied.
With great pleasure and unbounded confidence in the use of the above named Extract, I voluntarily send you this certificate for publication.

A HARD CASE.

I WAS handed by a gentleman, a few days past, a certificate of cure of his daughter's eyes, of ten years standing, of the most distressing character. This case is at hand, and can be seen by any who feel interested, and is hoped—having happened in a family whose connexion and wealth place them at the head of the first circle of society—there can now no longer rest a doubt of the certainty of cure, as I state below, and all will see at once that hundreds have been designedly misled and kept in ignorance and blindness to hide from the afflicted a sovereign balm for all diseases, whilst the poor blind sufferer, with his thousands in store, is wickedly secluded from the blessing of sight—having, as he supposed consulted his best informed friends, who answers, "I am sorry to say I have no possible hope for you," and at that moment, perhaps, in sight of the remedy he knows would heal to a certainty ninety-nine out of a hundred.

This is a hard case, but true.

JESSE HAMPTON,
se9 Corner First and Main streets.

EYES! EYES!

CURES in this city, together with certificates of first families, standing and fortune in Kentucky, of cures in their families, warrant the assertion, where sight and vision remains, the eye not having been operated on, that with the use of my invention of medicines, sight again restored, perfect to age in all the different affections of the eye, ever before pronounced hopeless and beyond the power of medicine or skill. Hence we aver, we have no equal in medicines, for the fact that no record of history or medical writing can dare pretend equality in cures.

We invite investigation—come witness for yourselves—seeing is believing. No humbug in seeing. The knife, vitriol, or caustic were never intended for the eye, nor can it ever remove disease therefrom. Let disease strike the system where it may, it immediately locates in the stomach, and is nourished and grows there, and if ever removed, is done by operating with a proper medicine, and through the stomach, and through that alone. I learn by the immediate, healthy and pleasant operation of my medicine on the stomach, that every branch of the is put in motion there, and from there through their proper channel find their way to every nerve through out the entire system, and as life again returns to the nerve of the eye, all and every disease, called or known by what name you please, leaves as snow before the sun, till the sight become as perfect as age permits. So old sores, as all chronic diseases, pains or aches are healed alone through the stomach. Amongst the numerous afflicting cases which I now have under successful treatment, several can be witnessed which have baffled the skill of the ulineral practice, although administered by the most popular, successful and extensive practitioners.

JESSE HAMPTON,
ja16m Southwest corner of Main and 1st sts.

IT is often asked, how can a medicine so simple in its nature perform such wonderful cures? We answer, this Tincture is composed entirely of vegetables from nature's garden, which give strength and tone to the stomach—creating a healthy appetite, which the patient is at liberty to indulge, then it its life finds its way to every member throughout the entire system. The liver then, whose functions are vital and of every importance to the system, commences its healthy operations, which are: first, to clean itself; next, it opens the pores, throws off all impurity of blood and food, clears off that gloom and wretched feeling which ever attends a torpid liver. The bowels now become regulated, and healthy action takes place—every nerve receiving its wonted life; the whole system is invigorated, rendering life truly desirable and comfortable. ap19
